

PERENNIAL

Wood Poppy

Stylophorum diphyllum

INVASIVE
LOOK ALIKE

ANTS & SPRING
EPHEMERALS

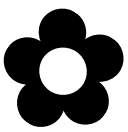

- Ideal for woodland gardens
- Blooms yellow, April-May
- Interesting seed pods
- Seeds distributed by ants
- AKA Celandine Poppy

HELPFUL TIPS:

Needs more moisture in sunnier sites. Leaves fade in summer if soil is too dry. Infrequently visited by bees (offers pollen, no nectar).

COMPANIONS: Jacob's Ladder, Trillium, Virginia Bluebells, Trout Lily, Red Columbine, Ferns, Wild Ginger, Blue Cohosh, Dutchman's Breeches, Woodland Phlox, Foamflower

Early
Spring

Deer
Resistant

Seed Dispersal:
Myrmecochory

Attractive
Foliage

Tolerates
Heavy Shade

Extremely
Cold Hardy

Spreads
Readily

Height: 12-14 inches
Spacing: 10-12 inches

Soil: Avg, Loam, Rich, Clay
Med-Wet, Med, Med-Dry