

Strawberry Spinach

Chenopodium capitatum

MONOCARP
OVERVIEW

Arcadia
NATIVES

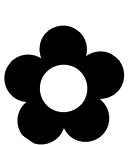

- Found in disturbed habitats
- Blooms green in summer
- Reseeds; "weedy" tendencies
- AKA Strawberry Blite
(this does not mean diseased)

FUN FACTS:

Flowers are wind pollinated. Berries are not very flavorful & should be consumed with caution. May be monocarpic.

COMPANIONS: Rock Harlequin, Black-Eyed Susan, Venus' Looking Glass, Pussytoes, Gray Goldenrod, Mountain Mints, Sensitive Partridge Pea, Pearly Everlasting, Sundrops

Early-Late
Summer

1/2"
Berries

Edible With Caution

Persists by Reseeding

Spreads
Unpredictably

Disturbed
Habitats

Tolerates
Gravelly Sites

Height: 1-3 feet
Spacing: 1-2 feet

Soil: Avg, Loam, Rocky, Clay
Med-Wet, Med, Med-Dry