

Venus' Looking Glass

Triodanis perfoliata

PLASTERER BEE
COLLETES BREVICORNIS

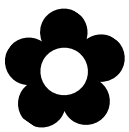

Arcadia
NATIVES

- Very small flowers (1/2")
- Blooms blue/purple, early summer
- Fades away after blooming
- Provides nectar for pollinators
- AKA Clasping Bellflower

FUN FACTS:

Plasterer bees have a unique relationship (oligolecty) with this flower. Doesn't do well with competition from more aggressive plants.

COMPANIONS: Spotted Bee Balm, Hairy Beardtongue, Rock Harlequin, Hoary Skullcap, Purple Lovegrass, Pearly Everlasting, Wild Geranium, Pale Spiked Lobelia, Blue-Eyed Grass

Early
Summer

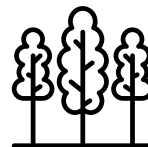

Supports
Pollinators

Can Reseed
Annually

Front of the Border

Dry Woodland
Edges

Small; Easily
Overlooked

Disturbed
Habitats

Height: 1-2 feet
Spacing: 1-2 feet

Soil: Poor, Loam, Sand/Gravel
Dry